

Have You Considered Becoming an Administrative Law Judge?

The Board of Industrial Insurance Appeals and the Office of Administrative Hearings jointly invite WSBA members to a moderated panel discussion on career paths as industrial appeals judges and administrative law judges. A diverse panel of judges will describe their respective professional journeys, their day-to-day responsibilities, training opportunities, career advancement opportunities, and the benefits of public service. The panel will also offer tips on resume building, and making oneself competitive in the application process.

This free lunch hour webinar is tailored for lawyers from all practice areas, just starting out or with years of experience, interested or curious about a career as an administrative law judge.
